seen to vacate the official position which are not one of one deeply dishonored, but for the undeniable fact that I had directly charged him upon recorded testimony, that is to say, upon the evidences supplied by the books of his own department, of having caused to be paid to himself, by his own official subordinates, forty ers then in confinement therein, not one of whom was charged with anything but suspected political inddelity, and this, too, not upon att in a single instance. Before I could take proper steps to procure the discharge of these unhappy men, the second suspension of the writ of liberty occurred, and I presume that such of them as did not die in jail remained there until the fall of Richmond into the hands of the Federal forces.

General Hindman One of Davis's Pets—Gen. Hindman, of Arkassas, when a very young man, had, in the State of Mississippi, been a most noisy and unserupulous advocate of Jefferson Davis and secession at that time propounded—had afterward gone to Arkassas, where he had led, for several years, a very turbulent and loan, the proposition to enlist in which came to Richmond under the sinister auspices of Mr. John A. Shidell, seemed to a considerable number of the members of the Confederate Congress to be a speculative project, adroitly set on foot chiefly for the benefit of Mesers Slidell, Benjamin & Co., their adders and abettors in the United States and in foreign countries, and we therefore struggled most earnestly to defeat it by every expecient known to parliamentary tactics. By the aid of the celebrated ten-minutes rule, and by the sitting with closed doors, it was finally carried by a somewhat meager majority in the House Foreign Intervention—The fact was well known to me that Mr. Dayls and his friends were confidently looking for foreign aid, and from several quarters. It was systed in my thank repeatedly, by several special frieads of the Confedera'e President, that one hundred thousand Franch soldiers were expected to arrive witkin the limits of the Confederate States by way of Mexico; while it was more than rumored that a secret compact, wholly unauthorized by the Confederate Constitution, with certain Polish commissioners who had been flately on a visit to Richmond, had been effected, by means of which Mr. Davis would soon be entirely and a visit to Richmond, had been effected, by means of which Mr. Davis would soon be entirely entire force, when it should arrive, not being levied under Congressional authority, would be completely at the command of the President for any purpose whatever.

Those papers professed to have the correspondence retween Generals Lee and Grant concerning the surrender of Lee's army. They also stated that Mr. Davis and Cabinet were in Danville, to which place the Confederate Government had been removed, and that Mr. Davis had issued a proclamation, informing the Southern peope that the war would be carried on with renewed type?

To the General Assembly of Kentucky:

procismation, informing the Southern people that the war would be carried on with renewed vigor.

I was made possessor of as late news by these two captures as any the whalers had, and I continued my work until it were completed in the Arctic Ocean on the 28th of June, when I had succeeded in destroying or dispersing the New England whaling fleet. I left the Arctic on the 29th of June, and shipped from some of the whalers eight men on that very day—men of intelligence, all trained soldiers. It is not to be believed that those men would have taken service in the Shenandoah if they believed the war ended.

After leaving B-hring's Sea I fell in with no vessel until I communicated with the British bark Barracouta, from San Francisco 2d August fourteen days, bound for Liverpool. She informed me of the capture of Mr. Davis and a part of his cabinet; also of the surrender of Generals Johnston's, Smith's, and Magruder's armies. The Barracouta furnished that news the first time I heard it, and I instantly ceased to cruise, and steered for Cape Horn.

Before communicating with the Barracouta, Intended to look into the Gulf of Lower California, and then to await the arrival of a California stemmer bound for Panama.

The Barracouta's news surprised us, and among some of the officers I witnessed a terror which mortified me. I was implored to take the vessel to Australia; that to try to reach a European port would be fatal to all concerned; petitions were signed by three-fourths of the officers asking to be taken to Cape Town, arguing and deturing the horrors of capture, and petitions were signed by three-fourths of the of-ficers asking to be taken to Cape Town, argi-leg and picturing the horrors of capture, and all that sort of stuff. I called the officers and crew to the quarter deck, and eaid calmly to them: "I intend taking this ship to Liverpool, I how there is risk to be run, but that has been our associate all this time We will be sought after in the Pacific and not in the At-lantic."

been our associate all this time. We will be scupht after in the Pacific and not in the Atlantic."

They supported my views, and then followed a letter from the crew—signed by 71 out of 110—saying that they had confidence in me, and were willing, nay, desired to go with me wherever I thought best to take the vessel. I had, of course, a very anxious time, painfully anxious, because the officers had set a bad example to the crew. Their conduct was nothing less than mutiny. I was very decided with some of them; I had to tell one officer I would be captain or die on the deck, and the vessel should go to no other port than Liverpool. So ended my trouble with complaints and supplications from the officers. The men behaved nobly, and stood firmly to their decision. * *

The Shenandoah ran from the Arctic to Liverpool in 130 days; from the line on the Pacific side to the Cape in 26 days; from the Cape to the line on the Atlantic in 26 days, and from the line to Liverpool in 24 days. Two of my crew died of disease when near Liverpool; otherwise nothing happened to may our cruise; no accident occurred during the cruise.

So ends my naval career—and I am called a "pirste!" I have made New England suffer, and I do not regret it. I cannot be condemned by any honest thinking man. I surrendered the vessel to the British Government, and all are unconditionally released. My obstinacy made

HE INVESTIGATION OF THE COMMITTEE AP POINTED BY THE LEGISLATURE IN REGARD TO GEN. FISK.

[Correspondence of the Louisville Journal.] Frankfort, Feb. 15, 1866.

In the House yesterday morning, Hon. J. M. Armstrong offered a resolution to extend the sittings of the committee appointed to investigate the statements of Gen. Fisk. This resolution brought on quite a spirited discussion. Mr. Armstrong desired to present a minority report, and read a letter and telegrams from General Fisk, giving the reasons why he (the General) had not presented himself before the committee. If the Legislature did not show a willingness to give the fullest investigation of this body or the facts in the case were, the effect would beliefurious; people would believe statements unless there was an opportunity given for the other side to be heard. Mr. Webb also urged the committee to take this course, and withdraw the majority report until the minority of the committee could present their report.

Mr. Coakin hoped the resolution would n to be adopted to committee the mogodother than the minority of the committee could present their report. to; he could see no good to be accom-be extending the sixting of the come it deffort of Gen. Fisk to exculpate him

He did not wan: Gen Fisk to have the privilege of traversing the whole State to procure evidence of every little act of mistreatment that might have been perpetrated upon the negro, for the purpose of justifying the speech made at Cincinnatif Gen. Fisk made as speech that reflect. for the purpose of justifying the speech made at Cincinnati Gen. Fisk made a speech that reflected upon Kentucky. The Legislature introduced a resolution to inquire into the truth of the statements made in that speech—not to reflict upon Gen. Fisk. To this Mr. Armstrong responded that he was willing to madiy the resolution so as to have the investigation limited to the points named, and also that the committee should sit without pay. Gen. Fisk had certainly indicated his wish to come before the committee, and he had never been legally notated. He was at Washington City at the time the letter was dropped in the post office directed to Louisville. Mr. Stout expressed the hope that the committee would be allowed to wi hiraw their report, and that they would ask to do so. The gentleman from Louisville (Mr. Armstrong) was absent on duty at the time the report was made, and he asked is justice to him that this be done, and also in justice to Gen. Fisk and the State Gen. Fisk had stated that the speech had, been reported by somebody who wanted to make a sensation paragraph of it, and that it was exaggerated. It was due to him that the case te investigated. Col. Wolford opposed the extending the labors of the committee. He understood the gentleman from Louisville to say that Gen. Fisk denied having made the printed speech; if he did so, that set him right, and all that was necessary was for the State to be set right. He supposed that every gentleman nuderstood the matter. We are marching and all that was necessary was for the State to be set right. He supposed that every geatle man understood the matter. We are marching right onward to a certralized government

Hon J. M. Armstrong, Frankfort, Ky.:

Hon. J. M. Armstrong, Frankfort, Ky.:

Dear Sir: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your telegram of this date, giving me notice of a meeting of your legislative committee at Lexington, Ky., on the 3d inst. I have responded, asking that the investigation be delayed nutil my return to Kentucky. My duties will detain me in Washington for several days. I hope to be at Frankfort by the 20th or 25th inst., and will then be pleased to meet your committee, and aid you in investigating not only the cases to which I referred in my Cincinnati speech, but many others of similar character of which complaints are made in different sections of the State.

I trust that great good will result from this investigation. Let us go down to the "hard-pan," and ascertain the exact condition of the freedmen of Kentucky, and the disposition of your people toward them.

Reports of outrages upon returned colored soldiers especially are continually reaching me from the "blue-grass" and tobacco-producing sections of your State. It is charged that in some localities the civil authorities utterly neglectors to the receiver of course of the return of the result of t

Some localities the civil authorities utterly neglect to protect the freedom; that in other sections they refuse to do so, and in a few places that they are powerless in the presence of outlaws, who pursue with wrath and vengeance our mustered-out soldiers without distinction of color.

I know from my own observation that there is some truth in these reports. I was at Lexington on the 15th and 16th ult. I had been expected there for many days, and a number of treedmen from the surrounding counties had c ngregated at that point to meet me and make known their complaints. I saw thirteen colored men who had been soldiers in the army, all of whom stated that they had been mattreated by their former owners when they had returned to their old homes to ask for their wives and children. Some of them, from Garrard county, I think, with their bruised heads and swollen eyes, gave evidence of severe treatment. Others stated that they had been cruelly baten and

I desired to represent the true condition of the people over whom I had supervision. I had met persons in Cincinnati who charged that all Kentucky was in resistance to freedom and justice. I denied the charge, and stated that by far the greater portion of your people—while far the greater portion of your people—while

It is my desire to devote myself to the promotion of tranquility, to aid in restoring confidence and good by chlowship all over the land, and to follow the hings that make for a peace permanently esablished in justice and truth.

Brevet Major-General and Ass't Com'r.

Bueeau Refugees, Feredmen, and Aband. Lands States Kt. and Tenn., Ass't Com'e's Office, Louisville, February 11, 1885. To Hon. J. M. Armstrong, Frankfort, Ky: To Hon. J. M. Armstrong, Frankfort, Ky:

DEAR SIR: I returned from Washington at an earlier date than I anticipated when I last wrote you, and had arranged to proceed to Frankfort to-morrow and present myself before your-committee of investigation. A telegram from my 1s mily calls me to them at once, and I go to St.
Louis immediately. I shall return to Kentucky as soon as I can leave my family, and trust that day will not be beyond the date named in my former communication, to wit, 20th or 25th itst.

Brevet Major-General and Ass't Com'r.
Said letter was shown to the majority, on the moning of the 13th, before making their report to the Senate. Still these gentlemen, exhibiting a zeal for the honor of Kentucky, were unwilling to allow Gen. Fisk time to present himself and effer such proof in vindication of himself as he might be in possession of. Gen. Fisk, after reaching St. Louis, having been called to that city in consequence of sickness and death in his family, sent the following telegram: Sr. Louis, February 13, 1866.
To Hon. J. M. Armatrong: Brevet Major-General and Ass't Com'r.

Please telegraph me the latest day I can meet our committee at Frankfort. If at all consistent for me to leave my family, I will be with you. CLINTON B. FISK, Major-General. The undersigned has, therefore, seen nothing in the action of General Fisk to warrant the conclusion arrived at by the majority of the committee, that he wished to shun an investigation, or trifle with the committee. 2: will be seen that General Fisk does not state in his telegation, or trifle with the committee. It will be seen that General Fisk does not state in his teigeram read before the committee in Lexington that he would arrive in Kentucky on Tuesday or Wednesday, "and the first intimation that he had as to the sitting of the committee, was, by a telegram from the undersigned, dated February 2, 1866, only the day before their meeting in Lexington (the notice of the committee and joint resolution mailed at Frankfort, 30th January, addressed to him at Louisville, not having reached him);" and he has not arrived at the same conclusion with the majority of the committee, viz: that the alleged statements made by General Fisk are false and standerous.

It is true that the proof taken does not show that the statements reported to have been made by him were true, nor does it show that they were false. The proof is entirely of a negative character; it merely establishes the fact that the witnesses can not see the thirteen negroe soldiers, or hear of their presence in Lexington. The statements are that the negroes were seen by him in the streets of Lexington, and bearing on their persons marks of bad treatment, but not that they belonged in Lexington, or Fayette county, or that they had been subjected to that bad treatment in that city or county.

But, in the absence of any better evidence n mere negative testimony, it will not vio ate a sense of justice and propriety to give some weight to the positive statement of General Fish himself, who has not yet been shown to be deficient in truth and honor, and who must be bresumed to possess these high qualities from he high trust reposed in him by the Governent. It can hardly be supposed that a man of his with his own reputation for truth and hono before the world. He informs me in the letter before the world. He informs me in the letter which has been published that the counties of Bourbon, Woodford, Madison, Montgomery, and Garrard were represented in the number seen by him at Lexington. Nothing which has come to my knowledge is sufficient to produce even a belief that General Fisk wishes either to avoid appearing before the committee, or to shirk an investigation. It must be borne in mind that he is a mere subordinate in the Freedmen's Bureau, and is bound to obey the orders of his superiors has been absent from the State in obedien ch orders until his return to K ntucky on the 11th inst., and that he was im n noned from the State by a call which no hu asne man could disobey. He may well think that the immediate investi-portant as to require the repression of the noblest instincts of humanity in order to hasten it.

Suppose the statements about the thirteen negro soldiers be true; they would only show that some Kentuckians had been cruel and inhuman, and that, during their short stay in Lexington, the citizens had either failed to discover their condition, or that, if they did discover it, they discovered also that the perpetrators of the injuries resided in other counties, and were, therefore, beyond their reach.

Then why hurry this investigation? Truth is the object of investigations; and if this one be hasty and partial, it will not give satisfaction in any quarter, nor will it allay excitement in the public mind on this subject. The original object was to ascertain the truth or falsity of the alleged statements of Gen. Fisk, and to repel supposed slander upon a portion of the people of Kentucky; but since that object can not be fully ascertained now, and at once, why not extend the investigation, not only for the sake of the original object, but also to ascertain whether or not wrongs and outrages are being committed on the negroes by bad people

INTERESTING LETTER FROM PRESIDENT JUAREZ. El Paso, Dec. 28, 1865.

MY DEAR Sin: I have received your favor of the 12th of October, in which you acknowledge receipt of mine of 17th of August You will scon receive, if it is not already in your hands, the one I sent you in November, announcing the withdrawal of the French from Calinahua, the etemy has in no way improved his stunation, he is only consuming his has resources and demoralizing his forces. With the attitude that the Government of the United States has lately as uned, Maximilian has now not the slightest probability of cementing his so-called throne. He must see very clearly that even should he arrive at the complete conquest of the country, occupying with his forces even to the utmost limits of the Republic and destroying the National Government, which, however, will never take place, the United States will never permit him to consolidate his power, and his sacrifices and his victories will have counted for nothing. This certain result is already in the mit him to consolidate his power, and his sacrifices and his victories will have counted for nothing. This certain result is already in the conviction of all; it has angmented the increasing discouragement of our opponents, and has reanimated the public spirit on our side to such an extent that in my judgmest, without the necessity of the United States taking any direct part in our war, we shall ourselves alone be able to obtain the definitive triumph of the cause of the national independence. Such is my desire, and to such result all my efforts are directed. Although Napoleon, from his pride and the habitual depreciation with which he has treated us, may not be ready to propose terms, yet the time is soon coming when he will be glad to accept those we proposed before the war. For ourselves, we will neither propose nor accept anything, absolutely nothing, which in the slightest degree can imply any recognition of the intervention, or that may be centrary to the honor and dignity of the country. Have but a little patience, and the time will soon come when you can return to our country, free at last from all its oppressors. Truly your triend, Vera Cruz, Jan. 29, 1866.

Among the merchants of this place, as elsewhere, there are persons of different political opinions; but, with the exception of the French houses, all are open in their expressions against Maximilian and his miserably managed government. The multitude of vessels of war and commerce which enter and arrive at this port, and the cars which pass through the city, and which are constantly arriving and departing commerce which enter and arrive at this port, and the cars which pass through the city, and which are constantly arriving and departing, make so much sit that you might think Vera Cruz a place of real commercial importance. But all this is delusive. Nearly all the effects that arrive are for the French army, and are a drain upon the country instead of yielding it benefit. These effects pay no duty, and the French merchants connected with the army, under the guise of this privilege, are doing the most scandalous contraband trade that has ever been seen in this or any other country. For the discharge of vessels that do not carry the French flag there are a thousand difficulties placed in the way. The wharf is very limited in its capacity, and is not over: three hundred feet in length by thirty in width. Of this nearly all is monopolized by the French for the discharge of their effects. The ordinary commerce has scarely any space at all.

When there are many vessels discharging this ridiculous mole or wharf is quite insufficient for ordinary purposes, so you can imagine what are the inconveniences to the regular trade at the present time. The same can be said with regard to the transportation hence to the interior. Everything is monopolized by the military and the French, and the charge by the railroad for the twenty leagues hence to the Paso del Macho is so great that the merchants have del Macho is so great that the merchants have Such is the economy of this "highly civilized" Government that was to do so much for "barbarons" Mexico. The annual estimate of expenditures passed by the last Congress, in 1862 or 1863, was, for the entire expenses of the National Government, a little over eight million dolars. The expenses of this Austriau-French Government are over fifty million dollars par annum. The salary of Maximilian is one million dollars. That of Benito Juarez is thirty thousand dollars. And yet it is urged Mexico is to be benefited by all this. Is there more security now than before? Is there more legitimate commerce, more prosperity, more tranquility, after this four years of war and blood-shed? shed?

more than eight thousand packages of ord nance stores have been transported from this place to the city of Mexico. The French have worked at this withsuch activity that there are now six great depots of such supplies in the city of Mexico, without counting those at Puebla and the immense supplies of such materia which already existed at Mexico and in the in

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 17, 1866. LABOR IN ITS NEW RELATIONS -This country has been the paradise of the laborer. In no other part of the world, where life and proper-ty are so well protected, have so few burthens been imposed upon the producing classes; and this has been, as the Journal of Commerce says, the secret of its unexampled prosperity. There have been no privileged idlers to be supported by the industrious; no royal splendors upon shich to lavish the earnings wrung from the hand of toil; no entailed estates secured to ease and sloth, and evermore beyond the reach aspiring poverty. The hand of diligence held ons of competence within its grasp, and the way to wealth had no barriers but those imposed by human weakness or a noble self-restraint. A few hours each day of welldirected labor, either with the head or hands was sufficient to supply the necessaries of life, and all beyond this was within the choice of the

This has been suddenly changed. A nation struggling for life, has gone beyond its current rces, and pledged three thousand million of its future earnings, all of which has been expended in the contest. It will not change this esult to say that it might have been avoided. No regrets for the war, and no indignation over the waste which accompanied it will now be of any avail. Labor has been brought by this solemn pledge into new relations, and it i worse than idle to sit down and bemoan the past. No true man would call upon the nation o repudiate this obligation, or feel other than s sense of shame if he thought the people could ever be false to their plighted faith, But there can be no national honor without adividual virtue, and if each one shrinks from his part of the burden, the work of repudiation already begun. Heretofore, our prosperity has been ensured by the willingness of the great mass of the people, each for him self, to bear their full proportion of the common toil. Sometimes, in the midst of a prevalent excitement, the walks of industry have seemed to be partially deserted, while the arens where speculators jostled each other in the mad pursuit of sudden wealth has been overcrowdand the strugglers returned to their old pursuits, wiser for the bitter lesson. And now that the burden of toil has been so fear fully increased, it is natural that there should be a little shrinking of the shoulder and some attempt to shift the weight that essed so heavily. It will take a little time to adjust these new relations, and we must be patient with each other until the straining sinews come accustomed to the load. But let no one think to escape his share, or sit down in idleness because he finds his strength more severely tasked than of yore. It is a moderate estimate to say that every producer must add one third to his hours of toil for several years to come, to reach the same results as before the war. La or-saving inventions, increasing population and continued peace among the nations, will gradually lighten the burden, even if the principal of the debt is not extinguished, as we hope may be, ere all of this generation has passed away. But no one who earns his living can now hope to find the leisure he may have formerly enjoyed; and any attempt to adjust his new relations so as to secure such a result, must prove a failure. It is hat there should be no mistake on this point for until the mass of producers realize this truth and settle themselves to the task before them, there can be no permanent prosperity for the country. The time of severest trial is still to come. The annual tax to carry the national will be diminished somewhat by a return t pecie payments, but the proportion of this sum to the gross earnings of the people will be ed when prices are settled upon a fixed basis of coin; and, as a result, the share which each individual will then be obliged to pay must absorb a larger part of his income. Too little attention has been given to this branch of the subject. In preparation for that time of trial there should be agurated now a system of economy in national expenses. There seems to be still the same utter recklessness in appropriating money from the Treasury that prevailed when the funds were borrowed, and the day of reckoning appeared to be far distant. Millions upon editorial chairs may reduce a section and the section of the President, but in doing so they fail to if the supply was inexhaustible. There will be a fearful reckoning for all this waste when the toiling people find by a sad experience how steadily it encroaches upon their little reserve of rest. There should, also, be far more caution in bestowing special privileges. Bounties, under whatever guise, are so much more added to the producer's burden, and in this country, where there is no royal do main, they form part of the annual tax to be earned by the laborer in the sweat of his face. All the so-called "protective" systems, all attempts to foster any given branch of industry, no matter what the pretext may be, are bounties to a class which cannot be paid except by increasing the general burden. We have no wish to see any startling and violent changes in the revenue laws, even though they are made in the right direction, because all such extreme legislation unsettles the relations of labor; but we warn those who are projecting a series of experiments under the ctive policy, that they are preparing a most crushing blow for the interests they are trying to foster. When the cost of hot-house culture comes to be fully understood by actual experience of its burdens, there will be a swift reaction from the extreme towards which they their shoulders of the weary load. The Press and Times, the radical paper of Nashville, Tennessee, severely arraigns us for sing the movement for a people's convention in Nashville on the 22d instant. vention has been called by some of the most minent Unionists of the State in consequence of two memorials recently forwarded to Washington by a committee of radicals, ting the condition of Tennessee as eplorable, and unprepared for a perfect restoration of a civil government. of Tennessee are anxious to disabuse the authorities at Washington of the impressions created by those memorials, and hence they propose to demonstrate in the approaching convention their hearty acceptance of the results of the war, and their determination to support in good faith the Governmen of the United States. We cordially indorse the segacious of those in whose interests these novements are ostensibly made, are beginning to realize this truth, and already look with no little alarm upon the zeal displayed in their behalf. The people will very soon become impatient of these bounties, and, when they have once traced the connection, no amount of ingenious sophistry can prevent them from easing

It lies in a patriotic direction, and the Press and Times evidently opposes it. It will be calculated to overthrow the statements of the radical memorialists. This result will be just what we ardently desire. From all we have heard from Tennessee, we are bound to con-clude that the people of the State are arxious for peace and the perfect re-establishment of civil law. If such be their condition, we are unwilling that the ultra clique, of which Brownlow is the leader, should them from enjoying the privileges to which they are fully entitled. Let, therefore the people of Tennessee assemble in convention on the 22d instant, from all parts of the State their loyal sentiments and wishes.

Juarez is said to be very hopeful of the can cause in Mexico. He thinks the enemy is consuming his last resources and his forces becoming demoralized, and there will be no necessity for the United States to take any part in the war, and that the attitude alone assumed by our Government has been of great moral support to the Republic. Each of these points, says the Boston Fost, demand a re-examination. If personal security cannot keep pace with commercial enterprise, and human life at sea and on our lakes and rivers is to receive no larger share of care than the transportation of ordinary freight, then there will have to be a revisal of the system whose deficiency must in a short time prove a fatal one.

The details of the foundering of the screwsteamer London were heart-rending. One all most resolves to forego all thoughts of the season which a short time, much in the same way. When we leave the ocean and come to our Western waters the scenes which have been witnessed there of late become too pain in the light of a national kni-kari. If they help us up, we question if they help us on. That country must submit to be ranked low in the reale whose helpless citizens, with their unsuspecting wives and children, are murdered at the rate of a hundred a day, more or less, and no suthority invoked to bring the wholesal slanghter to an end. The steamboats must be more than even with the railroads by this time. Suppose we rentare to suggest now a new set of appraiso seems to be inevitable. They lie within the domain of the reserved rights, upon which neither the Federal Government nor the other States can lawfully enter.

These considerations constrain me to speak with diffidence of the proper course to be pursued at this time by the Southern States in relation to their freedmen. That it ought to be humane, and in conformity with their changed condition, and calculated to give free scope to whatever capacity for improvement they may possess, I do not doubt. Whatever may have been expedient or necessary in a society where Isabella's forces, will, says the Chicago Republican hardly be able to escape a defeat such as that in South America would have been at all imes and under all circumstances, they are especially disastrous in the present juncture of affairs, when defeats and humiliations abroad only precipitate the fall of the Bourbon monwhatever capacity for improvement they may possess, I do not doubt. Whatever may have been expedient or necessary in a society where the condition of slavery exists, it does seem to me that justice and good policy alike require that ample protection should be assured to the person and property of the negro wherever he is recognized as a freeman. I mean that protection, and that sense of protection, which just laws, impartially administered, give to the person and property of the white man. The condition of freedom deprives the negro of that care and protection which the affection and interest of his master assured to him, and imposes upon him the duty to support himself and his family. The full enjoyment of the fruits of his labor—the right to acquire and hold prope ty, to make and enforce contracts—is essential to the performance of his duty. The society which imposes the duty should guarantee the protection. This is simple justice to the negro. I believe that it will at the same time promote the peace and good order of society and the pleasant and profitable connection of the two races in their new relation to each other.

I notice what you say in reference to the proposition to permit negroes to testify. Many judicious persons agree with the opinion you express, but my observation and experience have convinced me that the true rule is to permit all persons to testify, leaving to the judge or the jury the question of their credibility such, with very inconsiderable exceptions, habeen the law of Ohio for ten years, and it habeen attended with good results. archy at home. O'Donnell's hope to make use of the discomfiture and voluntary death of the Spanish Admiral as a means of strengthening the shaken monarchy and rallying around the throne the sympathies of the now disaffected populace, is nothing but the illusion of despair The final defeat of the Spanish fleet in Chilian waters would produce such an exasperation in Madrid that the embers, of revolution, not yet fully extinguished, would burst into a blaze before which Queen Isabella's throne would crumble to ashes. And we can hardly doubt that this defeat must come if Spain persists in her present aggressive policy. The natural effect of her course will be to cement an alliance of the South American States against European encroachments; and with such a coalition Spain cannot hope to struggle with suc-tration of Andrew Johnson, believing that, in the perilous circumstances by which he is surrounded, he is doing his utmost to subsurve the welfare of the whole country. There are some features of his Administration—certain acts pertaining, for instance, to the affairs of Kentucky—which we would have otherwise; but appreciating the difficulties with which he must contend, and the various influences brought to bear upon him, we are unwilling to conduct a factious warfare upon his conduct. In estimating his Administration, it should not the forgotten that President Johnson, at the close of the most gigantic revolution of modern times, is confronted by the most arduous task for which any Executive of the Union has been made responsible since the holder in another State:

I am trying free-colored labor on my place in Mississippi. I am already satisfied I shall be successful. For fair wages, prompt pay, and kind treatment, the freedmen will render faithful and efficient labor. I had 130 hands; they had been at work six weeks. I never saw hands work more cheerfully. The men of the South who will look at things as they are, and not waste their time in growling and cursing abolitionists, will succeed in making large crops, and will aid in inaugurating a system which, in my judgment, will in ten or fifteen years make the Mississippi Valley the richest and most delightful country on the face of the globe. Couldn't you pay me a visit in April or May, about the time the crop looks most bevatiful, and see what a "Southern Yankee" is doing with free labor? I should be very happy to have a visit from you and a few friends. I am sure you would be interested.

MAXIMILIAN AND HIS SUBJECTS -Maximilisp, not satisfied with $5,000 a day, which he had appointed himself as salary, has now raised the sum to $7,000 per day, as he declares he cannot live on less. The balls at the palace are magnificent affairs; the luxury of the toilets are beyond the limits of description of a republican pen. People may groan, but the Court dances and amuses itself. A correspondent writes from Mexic : "The most stringent misery is visible everywhere; the greatest economic is practiced by those deemed wealthy; four per cent a month is asked and obtained; there is no trade, no improvement, except in the Imperial residences of Chepultepec and the national resi dence. The city, it is true, has increased, but this is the natural result of the distrust of the inhabitants of the country, who seek the protection of a large city." THE PRESIDENT AND THE COLORED FOLKS. President Johnson's admirable address to the negro delegation who lately waited upon him deserves, and is receiving, the applause of the whole country—except, of course, the black and white Radical fanatics. According to the New York Tribune, "The news of the conversation which occurred between the Presiden and these colored citizens, was brought to the House by prominent members of the delegation They gave an account of the interview to a number of Congressmen who instantly gath ered around them, and there was a general feeling of disappointment and sadness." METEOROLOGICAL.—The weather commenced oderating a little at 9 or 10 o'clock yesterday morning. However, the average rawness the day was not much inferior to that of Thursday. The piercing north wind quieted down somewhat, enabling people to move about with less danger of blueness and numbness of the nessal and auricular members. At the jewelry point on the levee between Third and Fourth We make a comparison, as follows: 6 A. exchanges we learn that a terrible snow-storm has swept over the North-west, obstructing railroads, and delaying or blockading trains The cold weather is general throughout the West and South west. At New Orleans, Thursday, the thermometer was six degrees below freezing point—a temperature complained of there as "exceedingly cold." The Mississippi is full of ice at St. Louis, and navigation again suspended above Cairo. As yet, there has been no obstruction of travel over the railroads lead ing South from this city. the public morals. Yours, truly.

EASTERN LUNATIC ASYLUM AT LEXINGTON. According to the forty-first annual report of his institution, lately issued, the whole number of patients treated during the past year was 300, against 276 the year previous; and the mber remaining is 255, against 241 at the end of last year. This gives the asylum thirty more than the number allowed by law which is 225. Of the three hundred treated in the instition during the past year, eleven counties-Jefferson, Fayette, Fleming, Mason, Franklin, Campbell, Bourbon, Clarke, Scott, and Shelby -furnished 178, or nearly two-thirds of the whole number. Twenty-six patients have recovered, being 44 per cent of the number trest-ed. The deaths were 14, six from small pox The occupation of those admitted were: Salesman, 1; machinist, 1; laborers, 4; carpenter, 1; musician, 1; house servant, 1; farmers, 13; cigar-maker, 1; clerks, 3; house painter, 1; The civil condition was, single, 19 males and 11 widower 1, and widows 3. Their nativities Pennsylania, 2: Ohio, 1: Virginia, 1: Maryland, The admission since the organization of the asylum in 1824, have been males, 1,761; females 914; total, 2 675. Of this number 1,003 recovered and 1,019 died. The expenses of the asylum the past year were $46,996 29, and receipts $47,849 23.

UNIVERSITY OF LOUISVILLE.—The medical derement of this institution held its commence ment a few evenings since, when the following emen received diplomas as doctors in medcine: Charles E. Coons, Ky.; David S. Goodloe, ; Elijah J. Graham, Ky.; Wm. H. Gray, Kv., Erasmus D. Grimes, Ky.; John S. Grubb, Ky.; Charles W. Harvey, Ky.; James A. Henderson, Ky.; C. T. Hendricks, Ky.; Henry O. Caldwell ddressed the class on the part of the trustees, and Dr. Lewis Rogers on the part of the Proesors, giving to the students much useful advice in relation to their future medical career.

REARRESTED .- A woman named Margaret Walsh, it will be remembered, was arrested in this city a few days ago, on information from New Orleans charging her with grand larceny. She is accused of stealing from her employer in that city the amount of $776 in gold and $65 in eilver. J. T. Condon, a special agent for the State of Louisiana, arrived here yesterdry morning with a requisition for the person of Margaret Walsh. She had been discharged from custody by the Judge of the City Court, and was uietly, and she imagined safely, living with her parents, who are in this city, it appears, Ir. Condon will this evening start with his prisoner for New Orleans, where she will be put ecarch at the residence of Margaret's parents money, viz: $520 in greenbacks (which no doubt had been received for the gold), $40 in gold, and $24 10 in silver.

INVESTIGATION ORDERED -It is understood that Major-General Palmer has ordered an investigation of the conduct of Colonel Thomasson, Freedmen's Bureau Commissioner, in fining and imprisoning Officers Hipwell and Martz, of the city police department. We believe General Palmer has no control over the Freedmen's Bureau, the concern being independent and above him, subject only to the authority of General Clinton B. Fisk; but he (General Palmer) has prime jurisdiction over the Military Prison, and has a right to inquire into the causes of sending prisoners there from the Bureau. This case between Colonel Thomasson and the civil authorities involves an mportant, if not a vital principle, and we therefore trust it may be at once adjusted. Col. Thomasson is also cited to appear before the City Court this morning.

The skating festival is still kept up herea bouts. Large parties of young ladies and gentlemen yesterday resorted to the several parks which nature has provided for them. At Zane's Pond, between Seventh and Eighth streets, there was an especially large congregation of fair and gallant skaters. We are glad to know that, among the young people of our city, the ness for this graceful and health-promoting exercise. When the Base-ball and Skating-Park Company, recently chartered by the Legislature, shall have fitted up their grounds as proposed (which will be done next winter), we expect to see Louisville compete for the ascendancy, in the West at least.

HONORABLY DISCHARGED.-Isaac W. Webb, arrested on the charge of stealing a gold watch belonging to W. E Murphy, bad a hearing in the Police Court yesterday morning, and was unconditionally and honorably released from nstody. Not a shadow of evidence was adduced to establish his guilt. Our police officers should exercise the utmost caution in making arrests of this kind. A young man's character is his dearest possession, and nothing should be done by the officers of the law to impair the good name of any one. We know that this is never wittingly done by our policemen, but in Menter's celebrated quadrille band of Cincinacting with due precaution it will never occur SHOOTING AFFRAY .- At the grocery store of Leurting & Co., Market street, just above Preston, yesterday morning, a fracas occurred between Jacob Shepherd and a man (name unknown) who lives at the corner of Shelby and Mair. Shepherd fired three pistoi-shots at the man, one of which took effect in his side, producing only a slight flesh wound, as we are informed. Officers Shanks and Booker took Shepherd to jail.

Relieved from Duty.—Captain James 8. Grier, of Major-General Jeff. C. Davis's staff, and Captain Charles A. Gould, of the staff of Brigadier-General L. D. Watkins, have been reved from duty, by order of the Secretary of War. Both of the above officers have performd important staff duty in this Department for a long time. Their standing has always been A Judge on Skates .- Our honorable friend, Judge James P. Harbison, of the City Court, made his appearance as a skater among the happy and beautiful throng at Zane's pond yeserday. We were not there to see, but we will wouch that the Judge deported himself upon favors to the Journal. skates with a gracefulness equal to the dignity he always preserves upon the bench.

ORDERED TO REPORT.—Ordnance Sergeants wm. G. Davis and John Crawford, stationed at this post, and John N. Pepper, at Newport, have been ordered to report to the Inspector General of this department for examination, with a view to reassignment or relief from LOUISVILLE THEATER,-The audience last evening was one of the largest and most select of the present Last Wednesday I attended the Freedmen's theatrical season. As a testimonial to the pr reau Court of Col. Thomasson, as counsel theatrical season. As a testimonial to the professional and private worth of Mr. John Brougham it was truly flattering. We are more fully satisfied than ever that Mr. Brougham occupies the first place in the esteem of our people as patrons of the drama. His popularity has grown with such strides from night to night that his engagement could be prolonged for works with for a citizen, who had been sued there by a negro for a pretended claim of $1,000. Among the witnesses for the prosecution appesred one Lewis Kinsler, late a military detective. The only evidence he gave was that when my client kad once before, on the same charge, been brought before General Palmer, he had turned to the witness (Kinsler) and told him, "Help me out of this scrape, and I will pay you d—d well."

I then asked him, by way of cross-examination: "Is this the first time that money has been efficient to work." The which prestion he ctive. The only evidence he gave was that been offered to you?" To which question he "Oh, I know what you are after. have taken bribes often, and always reported them to the General." And then, turning und to my client, he said: "The first bribenoney I ever got, was three hundred dollars; and refined and attentive and delighted. The company, from the leader down to the supernumerary, most pleasingly preficient. In dramatizing "David Copperfield" and "authorizing" the Irish farce of "Love and Management of the prefix of the p Murder," the eminent skill and nicety of taste and native wit of Mr. Brougham are displayed to greater advantage, perhaps, than in any of his numerous productions. These richly entertaining pieces will be repeated to-night. For the great matines this afternoon "Man Without a Head" and "Pocahontas" are announced. ou paid it to me at the Crystal Palace, and I carried it to General Boyle." Now, I would like to know, from some re-"Man Without a Head" and "Pocahontas" are announced.

The thrate-going public and the friends of Mr. and Mis. Charles Keene will be highly elsted to learn that these renowned artists are to appear at the Louisville Theater three nights next week. Wednesday, Thurs day, and Friday. For this unexpected pleasure, we know the public will thank and require the enterprising managers of the Louisville. To persons who absent themselves from the theater because of the cold weather, we take this occasion to say this district ever abused his position to corrupt that the Louisville is one of the best heated theaters in the country. The andiences, during the existing in-clemency, have not suffered the left discomfort. We notice that the attendants in front keep the entrances well closed and pay the strictest regard to the decorum and warmth of the house.

WOOD'S THEATER.—We understand the former managers of this establishment intend recpening it on Mon-day next. Mr. Joseph Prector, the tragedian, is en-gaged to appear at that time, we believe.

OUR NASHVILLE LETTER.

WHOLESOME WORDS OF MR RAYMOND-IG MORANCE OR FALSEHOOD OF GRINNELL-HARPER'S WEEKLY-THE FRANCHISE LAW IN THE LEGISLATURE-THREATENED RUPTION OF THAT BODY-THE WEATHER. Special Correspondence of the Louisville Journal.] NASHVILLE, TENN., Feb. 15, 1866.

In a late speech in Congress, Mr. Raymond, f New York, gave utterance to the following ords, which are "as apples of gold in picture of silver."

"The courage and devotion on either side, which made it [the great civil war] so ter-loie and so long, no longer owe a divided duty, but have become the common property of the American name, the priceless possession of the American Republic through all time to come The dead of the contending hosts sleep beneath the soil of a common flag. Their hostilities are kushed, and they are the dead of the nation for evermore." This is the language of the patriot and states-

This is the language of the patriot and stateman. It is no longer treason to be proud of the course and devotion of American soldiers, North and South, and even with the horrors of Libby and Andersonville; the rule of Butler and Paine in our memories, we take pride in comparing the general treatment of each other in this great war with that which has marked rebellions in other lands. The fighting and the forgiving of Americans is unlike that of any other people. I like the words of Mr. Raymond. They sound like sweet music after the harsh notes of Mr. McKee, of your own State. And I am in doubt whether Mr. McKee could have heard their delivery, else he would have withheld his own.

Mr. Grinnell, of Iowa, a few days since saw fit to criticles in very severe terms the remarks of Gen. Rousseau. As Gen. Rousseau answered s fling in a very straightforward and usnner, I will not stop to discuss the necessity r the criticism But I understand that Grinelt, like Brownlow, affixes the title of Rous for the criticism But I understand that Grinnel, like Brownlow, affixes the title of Rousscau to his name when it pleases him. If he has any proper right to such tit e he is not entirely ignorant of the ten commandments, one of which reads: "Neither shalt thou bear false witness against thy neighbor." In his citicism he stated, in substance, "that he did not know whether Gen. Rousseau fought four years upon the Union side or against it." No one believes for a moment that the Reverend gent-mand di not know upon which side General Rousseau had been engaged. If he did know, then he was guilty of a malicious falsehood to enable him to intimate that the services of General Rousseau had been too insignificant to be heard of out in Iowa. If he did not know, then his went of information is but one of many scores of wants which make him less fit to represent Iowa sold lers than the humblest of those brave boys. He has the misfortune to be a malfeious liar or an ignoramus, and as either is unfit to represent or instruct even the freedmen And here permit me to notice the honesty of that most radical of all radical sheets—Harper's Weekly. The Harpers for many years have been influential publishers, and by industrious h nesty have been very successful.
For a great many years the imprint of that house was sufficient warrant that a reader could buy a book without fear of throw ing away both time and money. So well was this fact recognized that their mage zine jumped into favor upon its, establishment. After a time their weekly was started, and professed to be a o favor upon its establishment. After a time ir weekly was started, and professed to be a erary and pictorial newspaper, in the perusal which the reader would be enabled to forget luics, the negro, and rest the faculties wearied of which the reader would be enabled to forget politics, the negro, and set the faculties wearied by having these irritating subjects constantly thrust upon bim. After the war commenced the soldiers bought if for the same purpose, and for a long time they could be sure of a treat. They did not want a political paper. They were soldiers, not politicians. But the managers of that affair were secuced into politice, and were, for a time, at least, guilty of cheating the soldier in his intellectual rations. It became "devoted to literature art, social life and politics," and mostly politics. It does not say that 'the mammon of unrighteousness," "the root of all eyd," had anything to do with the introductin of this additional and objectionable department, but the impression is abroad that such was the case. I do not dispute the right of the Harper's to publish a radical journal if it pleases them; but I do protest that it would have been more in harmony with the opinion I had formed of their honesty as publishers to have sent out their political under its own mame, and to have left it to to it's own ments for succ-as or condemnation. I corfess that since then I have been despoiled of many pleasant hours, and I look up a their tick of foreing their politics upon me under the style of "pictorial, literature, arts, and social life" as about as accury as that of ceilling base wood hams and woo en nutmers.

tmegs. During the last two days there was an excit-During the last two days there was an exciting time in the Legislature. Messrs. Hood and Garett were up in opposition to the disfranchising act, and kept the House engaged nutil hilf-past eleven on Tuesday night. Several times the attendance got below a quorum, and business was at a stand-still until the dorn-keeper could run down the required number of members, and bring them back to their seats. The discussion of the bill will close to-day, and it will pass. The members of this Legislature are governed in this matter by the doctrine of "the greatest good to the greatest number"—always, be it understood, that all other members sirk into insignificance before that master cypher "number one." They are fighting desperately for political life. They lack the clear vision of the Babylonian King. They do not see the writing upon the wall. But it is there, and no act of theirs can efface it. Let them play out their little play. One of them fear if East Tennes:eeans would note as they fught." These stay-at-home patriots and loy-alists cam't understand the soldier. They never will. The soldier never had any personal hostility against his opponent. He went into the battle, risking his own life that the battle, risking his own life that the Union might live. The life of the Union assured, and the life of the rebellion crushed, he has no animosity against the atoms which made up the life of that rebellion. He knows many men who fought through the war on the Confederate side who are hopest, and this day as loyal as any men in the Government. He knows that in tusiness he can trust him: that socially he in business he can trust him; that socially hadmires him, and as a brave soldier he respect him. Believing in his honesty and his loyalty he refuses to disfranchise him. But these discretion heroes will not attain the purity of their cretion beroes will not attain the purity of their loyalty by political association with returned Confederaies unlies their rates are sure. I do not believe much in the patriotism of those who never heavil the whistle of a bullet or the music of a shell, and yet assume that their garments are a little purer than those of the hero of a hundred battles. They sing too low in time of danger. Their plying is for times of peace. It is not right good policy to muzzle the ox that treads out the corn; but neither Bible nor common sense oppose muzzling the ass that eats corn and fodder and treads nary a tread. I've no reference to allusions. This Legislature is joined to its ido's. One of its members declares that having been a Federal soldier is no proof of loyalty. If a man has fought four years in defense of the Union, and he yet fails to how down and worship the mud calf of this Legislature, he is not loyal. To-day they talk of getting up a small rebellion among themselves Who care? Let them. If the principles of the immortal thirteen can be upheld no other way. mmortal thirteen can be upheld no other way, is have a little home-made row. That will

to more toward placing the State under military rule than anything else. But the mass convention will soon assemble, he people will speak through that. No matwhat course the Legislature may pursue the assemblage of the people will prove that even in Tenneseee there is no difference of opinion among them—that they are all for the Union, and are every one earnest supporters of wise and humane policy of Andrew John

THE LOSS OF THE CARTER.

Carrespondence Cincinnati Commercial.

Carro. Illinois, Feb. 12, 1866. I will give you a correct account of the blow-og up, and burning, of the steamer W. R. arter, belonging to the Atlantic and Missis-ppi Steamship Course what was left of the boat took fire and carter, belt nging to the At'antic and Mississippi Steamship Company. After the blowing up, what was left of the boat took fire and barned. Immediately after the explosion, there was a general rush of the terrified people. The yawl, aft the boat, was manned by some men who were in charge of mules on the boat.

They put for the shore, not trying to save a single person. I do not know their names, or I would give them to the public. One of the life-boats was taken by five negroes, and they put for the chore. The surviving pilot called to the negroes to come back, but they kept on, and did not stop until they touched the shore.

These two boats could have saved many lives if they had not been seized by a pack of cowards. All those that could find a bed, or the less thing to keep them up, took to the water, and made for the shore. Mrs. Wolf, of Cincinnati, was seen to put a life-preserver on and jump into the water. That was the last seen of her. There was a body found at Baton Rouge which answers to her description, and is supposed to be her.

Miss Canfield, of your city, was in the water three hours and a haif. She does not recommend the cork life-preserver very highly. She had one on, and when she got into the water she got a small board and floated with that.
While in the water some person grabbed her toot, and held on, in their death struggle.
She says she was perfectly calm and not excited in the least. She saw she could not keep up, so she gave a sudden kick, and the person who held her by the foot let go, and she floated on down stream. She says she was held up by this board, and a mule which had come in contact with the board. The mule held the board up for more than half as hour with his nose. Miss Canfield lost everything she had excepting her water, which she went back to her state-room for before going into the water.
She was picked up by a boat from the Evening Star, and taken with others to Vicksburg. Mr.
Cochran informs me that bales of cotton which were on the boat, were blown to pieces, som
